About Penn-Mar

In 1981, a group of parents decided to develop a program of meaningful activities for their children that would impact their lives in ways beyond measure. In its first year, Penn-Mar served 12 young men and women on a budget of less than $2,000 a year. This was the foundation of Penn-Mar Human Services.

This year we proudly celebrate 42 years of providing transformational programs and services to people with intellectual and developmental disabilities, and life-enhancing support to their families, to our team and to our volunteers. We have multiple Day Learning Centers in Maryland and Pennsylvania, along with 57 residential homes and serve 400 individuals with an annual budget of $46,000,000. We also support 119 people with disabilities in meaningful jobs in the community.

Penn-Mar continues to serve our parents' vision to provide the best life for their children who are living independent lives, experiencing a vibrant active lifestyle and embracing all their communities have to offer. In our person-centered culture, we come alongside a person on their life journey in determining the type of support they will need to achieve the best outcomes.
